The race began next to the beach at West Lake Village, Illinois. For those that were not there West Lake Village is half way between Rockford and Pecatonica in Northern Illinois. After the start we climbed out of this lake valley to overlook a slight downhill into turn one. After the turn we ascended two gradual hills to turn two. Finally a level road led to a short fast downhill on the north side of West Lake Village. Past the river dam the climbing began in a series of steps to turn three with it's off camber tilt and on up to turn four. Now, after a few hundred yards you are finally at the top of this course. Then a long descent into the valley past the finish line, up a slight hill, where the Officials announced more laps to go. I swear they were grinning as we road past. For some reason the northerly wind seemed to be coming always from the front into our face, left, right or dead center, but never a tail wind. Maybe a tail wind was there when climbing up hill. This course is hard and a lot of fun to ride. If it were run in the opposite direction it would be twice as difficult to ride. The climbers would have a field day. Think about the present long down hill finish road and instead ride up it! It would be two miles of steady climbing. How would you like to climb up that hill on the backside, would 39 x 20 be enough? Now, what if they used that dog leg steep hill hidden behind the present long downhill finish road, just to break things up a little more.

As I was racing, my spouse went for a walk through the community. After I finished racing and on our way home we took a little drive past the golf course near the lake. My spouse pointed to a house for sale and stated "let's buy it".

Thanks ABD and ABR.
